

HOW IT HAPPENED.

CHAIRMAN CARTER WILL TELL ABOUT REPUBLICAN DEFEAT.

He Admits That the Republicans were Fairly Defeated—The Tariff and National Bank Questions were the Prime Factors That Turned the Votes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Hon. Thos. H. Carter, chairman of the Republican national committee has gone to Washington. He said last week he was preparing a statement and would give it out this week. It is thought he will give it to the public in Washington after he has seen the president. Before Carter left the city he said to a friend that the Republican party was fairly and squarely beaten. It the Democratic victory had been in certain localities, then some local or special causes would be given.

It was too sweeping to attribute it to local causes. The chairman stated that the demand for national speakers all over the country was so great that the committee could not furnish half of them. Every small town from California to Maine wanted a national speaker and the result was that many places were disappointed. The Democrats wanted free trade and said so on the stump. They wanted the tax on state banks repealed and did not try to conceal it. It was protection and the present national bank system against free trade and a state bank system.

The people declared in the matter. Even the weather, added Carter, could not be given as an excuse for the defeat of the Republicans. It was a bad weather, a fact which had helped Republican success. No educational campaign could have been conducted with a greater degree of satisfaction as far as reaching the people was concerned. Some 40,000,000 documents on the tariff were sent to voters and they had an opportunity to study the question thoroughly. Mr. Carter's statement will cover the above in detail and much more will be added.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD.

Regular Session of the Head Camp Convened Yesterday at Omaha.

OMAHA, Nov. 15.—There are 300 delegates entitled to participation in the sessions of the head camp of the Modern Woodmen of America which is holding its eighth biennial meeting in Omaha, and the indications now are a full representation will be present. The first business session of the society was held this evening at exposition hall. The Woodmen were welcomed by Governor Boyd on behalf of Nebraska, Mayor Bettis in the name of Omaha, and Congressman Bryan in behalf of the Woodmen of Nebraska. Head Consul Northcott responded for the visiting Woodmen, and addresses were made by other prominent men of the order.

KILLING AT HOMESTEAD.

Non-Unionist Assaulted at Night and Killed His Assailant in Self Defense.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 15.—One non-unionist was shot and almost instantly killed by another last night in the bunk house of the Carnegie steel works at Homestead. The murderer is Max Newman and the name of his victim is supposed to be Maynard. About two o'clock this morning the occupants of the house behind the fence were aroused by hearing two shots fired followed by a cry of agony and then a deathlike stillness. The police began a search. While they were thus engaged a man walked into the watch box of the mill police with a revolver in his hand. "I want to give myself up," he said. "I have shot a man." It was Newman. He conducted the officers to his lodging house, where the inanimate form of a man was lying on the floor. "There he is, I think he is a striker," said Newman. Physicians were hastily sent for, but when they reached the mill the man was dead. On being searched a mill pass and check found on his person indicated he had been a mill worker, but no one knew him except one non-unionist, who said he had seen the dead man working in the yard and had thought his name was Maynard. Newman came from New York and has been working in the 32-inch mills. He says he was assaulted while asleep, and believing his assailant was a striker he fired and killed him. No one knows cause of the assault. Newman is held to await the verdict of the coroner's jury.

THE WOOL TARIFF.

Views of a Manufacturer on the Effects of the Springer Bill.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—Charles Dobson, an extensive manufacturer of carpets, has the following to say regarding the passage by the present congress of the Springer wool bill: Passing this bill now would simply mean a total destruction of about two-thirds of all the woolen manufacturing in the United States, for the very reason that most of the manufacturers of next fall's goods of heavy weights, as the latter are called, will be showing goods for orders next month and if there was to prevail any idea of the adoption of such measures it would stop the merchants from buying. All merchants now stocked would have to regulate their business with new prices, and there is such a very large number who carry heavy stocks that they would become insolvent. It would thus create an unnecessary panic and ought not to be attempted at this time. Now as to free wool, speaking as a manufacturer, I may say that with ample protection on the manufactured article and regulating wages at home and abroad, I can't see that it would have any effect upon the American manufacturer. As regards the results of the election, I think its effect will be serious. Manufacturers will make no fabric until they have absolute orders. The season before us will be a hard one and a great deal of suffering is likely to be entailed thereby. A great many people will, I fear, be thrown out of employment.

WASHINGTON WAIFS.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST CHOLERA.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Secretary Charles Foster said yesterday that there was no foundation for the impression apparently prevailing in certain sections of the country that the department has modified its policy restricting immigration as a precaution against the introduction of cholera. He also said that sanitary experts declare that cholera will undoubtedly reappear in the spring and it will be dangerous for the federal authorities to relax their vigilance in keeping out all persons or merchandise at all likely to carry germs of the dread contagion. The president's order is still in full force and effect and Secretary Foster said he saw no prospect of modifying or repealing the restrictions in view of the possible appearance of cholera in Europe.

STEEL FOR CRUISERS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—H. C. Frick, chairman of the Carnegie Steel company, was at the navy department today to discuss with Secretary Tracy the matter of steel deliveries for naval construction. Much if not all of the delay in the completion of the new vessels has been caused by the fact that steel of a peculiar quality required for armor has not been delivered in sufficient quantity to keep pace with construction. The secretary says the difficulty lies in an insufficient plant for the production of the steel and is directing his attention to the subject. Today Mr. Frick told him his company intended to meet the requirements of the department and had arranged to purchase and erect a large quantity of new machinery and open the mills.

DRUGGISTS' CONVENTION.

Meeting of Wholesale Druggists of the Southern States at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—The wholesale druggists of the Southern states met at the St. Charles hotel today for the purpose of organizing an association similar to the one now in existence among the wholesale druggists of the West. L. F. Brunswick of Finlay & Brunswick, New Orleans, was elected chairman of the meeting. Among the objects of the association are the regulation of payments and cash discounts and interest after maturity, treatment of the matter of free cases and cartage and enforcement of the rebate plan, proposed sales at uniform prices of goods not on contract, plan of suggesting an arbitrary advance in fractional quantities of proprietary goods, vigorous control of employment of salesmen by competitive houses, measures to protect retail druggists from grocery competition. The sixth annual convention of the association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations was begun at noon today in Tulane Hall. About 150 delegates were present including most of the educationalists and agriculturalists of the country, but especially of the South. Proceedings were opened by an address by Governor Foster on behalf of the state, and Mayor Fitzpatrick for the city. Col. Wm. Preston Johnston of Tulane university, also made a brief address. The convention will sit for four days.

Ratification at McKinney.

Special to The Statesman.

MCKINNEY, Nov. 15.—The Democracy celebrated last night with torches, anvils, etc. Speeches were made by both Clark and Hogg men. Judge Sherrill of Hunt, Hon. J. M. Parsons, Hon. J. R. Gough, Captain Bush and others addressed the open air meeting. Hon. J. W. Throckmorton spoke in the court house, his throat preventing him from speaking in the open air, on national affairs. He was full of hope. He did not believe that the strike should or would be longer kept up. While he thought he was right in supporting Clark, he conceded to Hogg the right to rejoice. For his part, he was a true Texan, and as such he hoped Governor Hogg's administration would redound to the good of the land and the interest of the state.

Alabama Legislature.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 15.—The legislature met today. All it did was to adjourn until tomorrow. At the caucus tonight F. L. Pettus was chosen speaker of the house and W. M. Campton president of the senate.

HOMESTEADER'S APPEAL.

FINANCIAL AID ASKED TO DEFEND THE CRIMINAL CASES.

The Thirteenth of December Designated As "Homestead Day" and American Workmen Asked to Contribute a Portion of That Day's Wages.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Officers of the American Federation of Labor, the Amalgamated Association Iron and Steel Workers of America and the advisory board of Homestead locked-out men tonight issued an address to the American public which sets forth the situation at Homestead, Pa. From the striker's standpoint the Pinkertons are called "a band of organized pirates," the Carnegie company and "its tyrant Frick," are charged with fresh outrages upon the rights of citizenship and freedom, the judges lending their support to complete the work of the avaricious corporation by securing the arrest of men by wholesale and charging them with every conceivable crime, conspiracy, murder and treason being among the number; the law was distorted, twisted and misconstrued for the purpose of reaching men because they dared defend themselves.

The address contains the following appeal: "It has been decided by the representatives of the men, the officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers of America and the Executive Council of America, that the Federation of Labor designate Tuesday, Dec. 13, 1892, as Homestead Day, and we call upon wage workers as well as the liberty loving citizens of our country to make a contribution of a portion of their earnings of that day to aid our struggling brothers of Homestead in their present contest to defend themselves before the courts. In making this appeal we pledge to you that every dollar contributed will be devoted to the best interests of the men and not one cent paid for any other purpose than above stated. Their cases must be brought before the highest tribunals of our country if necessary."

COTTON CIRCULAR.

McElroy & Gibert on the Condition of the Market.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—McElroy & Gibert say:

Futures—Rumors were rife throughout the day that Mr. Neill had issued, or was going to issue, an amended crop estimate reducing his previous figure of 7,100,000 maximum to something like 6,750,000 or 6,500,000. Nothing definite could be learned on this point, but if the actions of Liverpool are to be taken as a guide to the correctness of the rumors we must accept them as true for that market advanced 6-64 and closed firm, and while spots during the morning were slow of sale and rather easier in price they became active later in the day and including sales after 2 p. m., the total business was 13,000 bales. Our market needed no further encouragement than this and has been very firm throughout the day. The closing showing an actual gain over yesterday of about 21 points or only 3 less than the extreme prices paid. New York has followed and closed about 22 above yesterday.

Our spot market was very active and prices are 3-16 higher. Middling cotton being now quoted at 9c. Sales aggregate 4600, of which 1500 are to arrive. We have looked with much gratification at the lead which New Orleans in the past two months very properly taken in asserting its position as the governing cotton market of the world. Nothing but the apathy of our own people and their failure to realize the importance of such influence on the price of the staple which forms the basis of Southern commercial prosperity has prevented us from taking this position some years ago. Now that it is assured the world will look more to New Orleans than to either Liverpool or New York when it wishes to learn the probable course of the market and of the influences that are likely to govern prices. The figures which were cabled so generally yesterday as those of Mr. Ellison are from all accounts really not his, but a deduction from his statements. It will be remembered that last month Mr. Ellison estimated the consumption of American cotton at 8,400,000 bales and if the new crop were equal to this our stocks would at the end of this season be the same as at the beginning. He always takes into consideration more particularly the stocks at mills and European ports, which in 1891 on Sept. 30, the end of the Liverpool year, aggregated $2,300,000 bales. If instead of carrying over to the new year such an immense surplus this would be reduced to the fair total on Sept. 30, 1890, of 1,000,000 bales, there would be required from America 1,300,000 hales less than the amount that will be consumed by the mills this year, and thus it is evident that parties cabling here yesterday calculated that Mr. Ellison's figures meant that an American crop of 7,000,000 would be sufficient to meet the world's requirements and yet leave stocks on hand at the end of the season as large as those carried over on September 1890, say 1,000,000 bales. This by the way was a larger stock than had been carried for a number of years previous.

Receipts at all ports today were 48,000 against 78,000 last year. New Orleans expects tomorrow 5000 against 12,000 last year.

Old Man Tolbert Killed.

MERIDIAN, Miss., Nov. 15.—The remains of Dave Tolbert, father of the Kemper county terrorists, were yesterday found in a brushheap about a mile from where he was taken from the sheriff's posse a week ago. Tom and Walker Tolbert, the hunted outlaws, were seen at the house of Dr. Kincaid, seven miles from here yesterday morning. A posse left here with bloodhounds on receipt of the news and putting the dogs on the trail kept up the chase all day but the Tolberts outwitted the dogs and are still at liberty.

THE NATIONAL ALLIANCE.

Some Important Changes in the Constitution Will be Considered.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 15.—At a meeting of the Farmers Alliance and Industrial Union today there had not been mapped out any definite plan of work. Some changes and modifications in the constitution of the organization will be made. For instance there will be an attempt made to amend that part of the constitution providing for a national lecturer. The idea that there should be what would be known as an assistant lecturer in each state in the Union has gained hold, and some of the members are very enthusiastic over the scheme and will support the movement heartily. There will be an attempt made too to change the headquarters of the National Alliance, which have been kept in Washington heretofore. Probably the most important matter incidental to the meeting will be an attempt to amalgamate the three orders, which now have representatives in the city. The scheme has been tried before but failed. Election of officers takes place tomorrow.

Georgetown Cleanings.

Special to The Statesman.

GEORGETOWN, Nov. 15.—The commissioners court met yesterday to estimate the election returns. About the only question that came up was which of the two candidates for the legislature, Jackson and Faubion, was entitled to receive certificate of election. Some of the tickets had C. J. Jackson district 72, when it should have been district 71. About 120 of these tickets were voted for Jackson, and if counted his majority is about 37. If these votes are thrown out it gives Mr. Faubion a majority of 89. The mistake on the ticket went in favor of Mr. Faubion, the Democratic nominee, and a certificate of election will be granted him. The third party people feel much aggrieved and Mr. Jackson will contest the seat.

State Superintendent Association.

Special to The Statesman.

CLEBURNE, Tex., Nov. 15.—The Texas State Superintendent association will hold its midwinter meeting Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 27 and 28, 1892, at Cleburne, on the Santa Fe. All city superintendents, principals of high schools, principals of ward schools, county superintendents or county judges who are ex-officio county superintendents, are eligible to membership.

An interesting program will be prepared, hotel rates will not exceed $1 per day and the railroads will give the usual reduced rates. Cleburne extends a hospitable invitation, and we know the meeting will be both instructive and entertaining. All teachers who can spend the holidays in the city should write to S. M. N. Marre, superintendent of the Cleburne school.

ENGLAND.

RUNNING ON SHORT TIME.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Mill owners have decided to put operatives on short time. This decision affects 100,000 spindles and the shortening of hours will greatly lessen the amount received by operatives. Mill owners North and Northeast Lancashire have joined in the half time movement. They have, however, resolved to negotiate with the operatives to get them to accept a reduction in time, which means a reduction in wages.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

CONFESSED THE MURDER

MONCTON, Nov. 15.—A sensation was created here by the announcement that "Jim," the pal of "Buck," who is now under sentence at Dorchester for the shooting of Officer Steadman some months ago, has confessed that he and not "Buck" fired the shot which proved fatal.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—At St. Thomas church this noon the marriage was celebrated of Miss Agnes Huntington, prima donna, to Paul Drennan Cravath, son of Rev. E. M. Cravath, president of the Flisk university of Nashville, Tenn.

THE NATIONAL ALLIANCE.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE SECOND DAY OF THE SESSION.

Agricultural Topics Are Not Permitted to Enter Therein, But Political Wire Pullers Are Juggling to Get It Squarely Into the Party.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 15.—The national Farmers Alliance and Industrial Union met in convention here today.

In the absence of Col. Robert Gates, the secretary of the Commercial association delivered the welcoming address which was supplemented by an address by Hon. A. S. Mim, state president of the Alliance of Tennessee. Delegate Dean of New York responded, and here began to appear the first symptoms of partisan division which is conceded to exist in the ranks. Mr. Dean said, among other things: "The Alliance is non-partisan in character but as full of politics as an egg is of meat." Delegate Marion Butler, president of the North Carolina Alliance, in the course of his remarks said "whatever may be said of the politics of some of its members the Alliance has other objects rather than politics." The Lex Non Scripta of the Alliance prohibits members seeking official preferment but it is claimed that this law is being violated and that a lively contest is in progress between the friends of the present incumbent, Mr. Louieks of North Dakota, and those of Mr. C. W. Macune of Washington, D. C., editor of The Economist. The former is being pushed forward by the Third party element, the latter by the Democrats.

Delegate Beck of Alabama, who is a leading light in the organization, said: "This organization should be a Democratic organization if anything. To be plain, it ought to stay out of politics. That was the original idea. But they won't, and since they will dabble in politics I say give the thing a Democratic flavor. That's my idea. We want Macune for president. He's a Democrat. The present incumbent, Louieks, is a good man, but I don't think we want him."

On the other hand Hon. J. McDowell of Tennessee is doing all he can to secure the election of Louieks and thus throw the organization into the Populist party. The outcome of the struggle is looked forward to with interest. A night session was held.

HUNTINGTON'S PARTY.

They Return from Mexico Where they Have Been Inspecting Railroads.

Special to The Statesman.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 15.—C. P. Huntington, president of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, A. C. Hutchinson, president of the Morgan line, John Krutchnitt, general manager of the Southern Pacific lines in Texas and Louisiana, and W. T. Van Vleet, general superintendent of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio road, arrived here at an early hour this morning from Mexico where they have been inspecting the Mexican National road and attending the recent celebration at Durango. The party remained here until 9 a. m. when they left for New Orleans.

Mr. Huntington was asked by a reporter in regard to the negotiations for the purchase of the "San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad by the Southern Pacific. He said in reply to the question: "I have been in Mexico for several days and do not know how matters now stand in New York, but I suppose that the deal has been consummated. If the purchase has not yet actually been made negotiations are still pending."

Mr. Huntington stated that he made a careful inspection of the Fuenta coal mines near Piedras Negras, Mexico, and that he had not yet decided to buy them for the reason that he does not think they are worth $500,000, the price asked. He is well pleased with his trip to Mexico. He expects to reach New York Friday.

THE GROOM CAME NOT.

A Clarksville Belle Stood at the Altar But the Groom Had Skipped.

Special to The Statesman.

CLARKSVILLE, Tex., Nov. 15.—The marriage of Mr. B. Bolanger and Miss Della Gaines, both of this place, was announced to take place at the Cumberland Presbyterian church this evening at 2 o'clock. The spectators, ministers and all arrived at the appointed hour. After waiting a considerable time for the groom a man appeared at the door and calling the minister out informed him that Mr. Bolanger could not be found. His brother went at once to his room and found a note signed by Bolanger stating that he was gone never to return and that he would never see him again. Much Indignation is felt over the young man's conduct and the entire community sympathize with the young lady, who is highly respected and who is one of the leading society ladies of this city.

THE RAINMAKERS.

They Have Selected a Site Near San Antonio for Their Experiments.

Special to The Statesman.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 15.—Gen. Frank Wheaton, commander of the military department of Texas, today issued an order detailing twenty privates from the Third United States cavalry and three officers stationed at Fort Sam Houston to assist Gen. R. G. Dyrenfurth and his party of government rainmakers in their work of conducting experiments here. Gen. Dyrenfurth and Prof. John Ellis spent the day in surveying the surrounding country to find a suitable spot from which to operate. They selected the Fort Sam Houston target range, embracing 300 acres situated two miles distant from the city. The outfit consisting of 40,000 pounds of explosives and equipments will arrive tomorrow, and the active work of arranging for the rainmaking experiments will immediately begin.

No Extra Session.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A Democratic paper says it is permitted to announce authoritatively that it is the present intention of President-Elect Cleveland not to call an extra session of congress after his inauguration in March. It is further announced that in the estimation at present of Mr. Cleveland and his closest friends, an extra session would turn out to be a profitless proceeding. His friends say Mr. Cleveland must have time after inauguration to look over the ground. There is a natural objection also to the reassembling of congress immediately after the inauguration, on the ground that it would have more or less of an unsettled influence on the business of the country.

Fatal Gin Fire.

Special to The Statesman.

SEGUIN, Tex., Nov. 15.—Near Post-office school house in this county the Wm. Moetzer gin was burned.
